Antiques Around the Corner

The Vintage Stop Hot Spot

If objects could talk, the antique treasures inside Antiques Around the Corner would have many stories to tell. The unique collection of vintage items have been passed down from generation to generation and are now proudly displayed inside the historic building.

Owned by Danny and Margie Meeks, Antiques Around the Corner was established in 1998. There is something for everyone and old "new" treasures are added almost every day. Hand crafted furniture, accessories, coins, sports memorabilia, jewelry, neon signs, vintage tools, record albums, and many other collectibles will catch your interest as you shop.

"Our store has been in business in Historic Downtown Rosenberg for over 20 years and this would not have been possible without our valued dealers - Rita Escobedo, Lynda Bosak, and Ginger Schultz," said Danny. "Their knowledge and expertise have helped our business continue to flourish making Antiques Around the Corner the oldest antique store in Downtown Rosenberg."

If you are looking for something in particular or just browsing, drop by Antiques Around the Corner located at 816 Third Street. The friendly staff is always ready to help you select your vintage treasure.

The Main Event

Owned by a family, for your family.

Screen printing, embroidery, promotional items, gifts and a family oriented atmosphere are just a few of the services offered at The Main Event. Located in what was once City Hall and the police department, this business proudly recently relocated to Rosenberg.

"We tried to keep the building as original as possible," said Rosey Barte, owner of The Main Event. "We are family owned and operated since 2009 and love to stay involved with the community and the Lamar Consolidated schools."

The Barte Family proudly displays their 2015 Redevelopment Recognition plaque presented by the Rosenberg Development Corporation in their storefront. There are many unique gift items to browse and an assortment of promotional items to choose from inside. The Main event is committed to helping others promote their business through a variety of customized materials, satisfaction guaranteed. Stop by The Main Event at 2033 Avenue H and visit them online at www.tmetexas.com.
